A LITTLE thing we notice now,
And worth the while to speak,
Is Sheriff Pickett suddenly
Shows up a tender streak.
With beaming smiles upon his face,
The pleasure he enjoys
Of demonstrating that he has
Attachments for the boys.

We shall now see whether Mr. Huntington intends to build the river railroad or not.

THE M. E. Church stands solid on this question.—Rev. E. L. Sanders' Card.

Except in this immediate part of the Southern Confederacy.

Mrs. Hamilton Gray, jr., was called to Cincinnati Tuesday by the serious illness of her husband. Mr. Gray went to Cincinnati about a week ago for medical attention.

The total list of bodies recovered at the scene of the Scioto-Lomas collision now amounts to fifty-four. Three other persons are known to be missing and possibly five. This makes a grand total of fifty-two.

The bills advertising the moonlight fete in East Maysville next Friday and Saturday evenings, posted this morning, were torn down by some evil disposed person as soon as they were put up. The East End Band offers a reward of $5 for information that will lead to the detection and punishment of the culprit.

Mr. B. E. Hilen, of Harrison county, was in Mason this week on a visit to his relatives. Mr. Hilen is a successful tobacco grower, having just sold the last crop of 8,004 pounds to J. N. Boyd, of Dover, for 16 cents a pound from the ground up. His crop of the present year is now ready to top. He says tobacco in Harrison is much farther advanced than in this county.

The committee to erect the jail, met at the office of Judge Wall, on Tuesday, and decided to change the location of the old sewer, the work to be done under the supervision of E. J. Hodgson, the architect. The change will prevent all danger of the property ever being flooded. The committee and architect are perfectly satisfied with the location and say that had they purchased any other lot, the cost of sewerage would have been much greater than upon the present site.

Mr. Wm. Hunt, the originator of the idea of establishing a large tobacco factory in this city, received recently a letter from one of the prominent business men of Louisville, which stated that a gentleman of long experience in tobacco manufacture, was much interested in the scheme, and desired to embark in the business. He has about $10,000 worth of collaterals that he says he is willing to put up as a guarantee of his sincerity. The proposition is held under consideration by the gentlemen forming the company.

The Suit of A. J. Hodder Against the Kentucky and Great Eastern Railway Company Decided. The Petition Dismissed.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, on Tuesday, says:

Judge Barr, of the United States court, held a special session of his court in Covington yesterday. Among other cases decided was the suit of A. J. Hodder, assignee, &c., vs. Kentucky and Great Eastern Railroad company. The decision to dismiss the petition of plaintiffs. This was a suit to enforce a lien of $350,000 for labor and material furnished on the road and to foreclose a mortgage of $500,000 in favor of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, of New York. It seems that the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad sold to the Kentucky and Great Eastern Railroad company, their right of way, &c., with a forfeiture clause in the contract, that if there was a cessation of work on the road at any time that continued over two hundred days, they were to have a claim to re-enter and resume possession. In the year 1873 work was stopped and the Maysville and Big Sandy took possession in 1877. The Kentucky and Great Eastern then claimed $350,000 for labor and material furnished, and the Trust Company claimed a mortgage of $500,000 for money advanced on the bonds of the road. The Court held that the Maysville and Big Sandy Company having taking possession under their forfeiture clause, they were entitled to the property as against Hodder, assignee, and the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, they having notice of the forfeiture clause when the work was performed by the Construction Company, of which Hodder was assignee, and when the mortgage was executed to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York. The original suit was filed in the year 1879.

Mr. C. L. Ralsin, of Newport, represented Mr. Hodder. Perry, Jennings & Wadsworth represented the Maysville and Big Sandy, and Messrs. Sage & Hinkle, of Cincinnati, and Whiting & Sargent, of New York, represented the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company. The case goes to the Supreme Court for the judicial consideration of that body. In the case there were three hundred pages of printed brief, one thousand pages of record and four hundred pages of pleadings. The interest and costs in the case will make the amount involved nearly $1,000,000.

Public Building at Maysville.

A despatch from Washington announces that the house committee on public buildings and grounds has agreed to recommend the erection of a public building in this city at a cost of thirty thousand dollars.

The regular July term of the Mason circuit court began on Tuesday, but up to this time, beyond the empaneling of the jury, and the trial of a few unimportant cases on the criminal docket, little else has been done. The names of the jurors are as follows:

W. R. Browning, R. A. Toup, W. S. Osborne, Richard Terhune, Thomas Dixon, J. C. Humphries, Joseph Frazee, Jacob Slack, Sr.

Jacob Hess, Robt. Marshall, J. M. Frazee, Henry Thompson, J. C. Groves, Madison Ball, Wm. Chamberlain, James H. Hall.

Card from the Rev. E. L. Sanders.

MAYSVILLE, KY., July 11, 1882.

Editor Bulletin: Please permit us to inform the public through your valuable Daily, that the object of the official meeting to be held at the Third street M. E. Church next Thursday, is to transact the regular business of the church, and not as stated in your issue of Monday. An official board in a Methodist Church has no power over the minister. He is amenable to the annual conference of ministers which is presided over by a Bishop, and to that body only, and we desire further to say, that the man who bet a nickel that the conference will sustain us in last Sunday's action, is in no danger of losing his money. The M. E. Church stands solid on this question. Respectfully,

E. L. SANDERS.

John W. Reese.

Some of the features attending the sad death of John W. Reese were noticed in the city papers last week. As an intimate acquaintance, we desire to add something to what has already been said. Mr. Reese was one of the most estimable of gentlemen in all respects. He was a dutiful son. The tender respect and marked consideration shown his aged mother, gave evidence of true filial devotion—with him the bible injunction, "Honour thy father and thy mother," was literally fulfilled. Toward brothers and sisters his conduct was praiseworthy. He was a fond husband, a loving father. In all respects his domestic relations were of the happiest character. By industry and economy, he had acquired a competency—and we verily believe such was his integrity of character, that not an unclean dollar ever went to make the sum total of his possessions. He joined the M. E. Church, South, in 1872, under the ministry of Rev. M. D. Reynolds. This step with him was taken after due deliberation, and his life as a christian was a consistent one. Official position was given him by the church and the duties of his office were filled with marked fidelity. Later chronic prostration induced temporary aberration of mind, and in this condition the sad event took place. A gloom overspread the whole community at an event so unexpected, entailing a loss that cannot be repaired.

Mr. Reese was forty-seven years old on the 7th day of June last. The blessed assurance that his peace was made with God when rational and accountable is a solace that no other fact could afford. May God in comforting grace be with the stricken family in this sad bereavement.

J. N. CURRENT.

The Lexington city council has passed an ordinance to punish all persons guilty of cruelty to animals in that city. Right.

COUNTY POINTS.

MURPHYSVILLE.

A. R. Howard went to Cincinnati, Monday, on business.

Dr. J. W. Dudley, joined his family who had been visiting here, and they returned with him to Flemingsburg, on Monday of last week.

Mrs. Robert Hudson and daughters, and Miss Mamie Walker, of Flemingsburg, have been guests of Mrs. E. L. Gault, for several days.

Miss Maud Bland, of Sardis, is visiting Miss Tillie Crawford of this place.

Robert Gault is ill with malarial fever.

J. C. Morris, Wm. Gault, C. Owens, Miss Tolle Chitt, and Mrs. L. Ford, and quite a number of others were visiting in our town the past week.

The concert given by Mrs. Barnes on the 6th and 7th inst., was a success in every particular and a success too which Mrs. Barnes richly deserved, for her untiring zeal and indomitable energy in her profession. The proficiency of her pupils attest her merits as a teacher. Space forbids that we give a full programme of each evening's entertainment, and where all acquitted themselves so creditably it would be unjust to particularize a few. Sufficient to say that the large audience seemed to be highly entertained each evening.

R. C. Bland shipped a load of fat cattle to New York, Tuesday.

Miss Viola Fleming, died on the evening of the 28th ult., and after the funeral services by Rev. Thomas Hanford, her remains were interred in a burying ground near her home. Although she was comparatively young in years just at an age when life seems brightest to us, she was perfectly willing and anxious to leave this vale of sorrow for that better land, where God shall wipe away all tears from our eyes, and where there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying.

WASHINGTON.

The Presbyterian supper, was quite a success. Services at the Baptist church, Sunday afternoon, was largely attended.

Mrs. Anson Maltby of New York, is visiting the family of Hon. Martin P. Marshall.

We attended the concert at Murphysville last week, given by Mrs. Barnes, which was enjoyed by all. Several of our young ladies took quite an active part.

Rev. Spates of Germantown, will fill Rev. F. D. Pollitt's, appointment Sunday morning at 11 a.m., and 7 1/2 p.m.

Miss Gabriella Brent, of Paris, and Miss Bessie Morgan of Maysville are visiting relatives here.

ARKOK-VITAE.

MINERVA, KY.

Miss Mamie Slack and Miss Mollie McAtee two charming young ladies of Fern Leaf spent last Sunday with Miss Sue Jennings.

C. H. Runyon of St. Louis, Mo., has been visiting his mother Mrs. Runyon and sister Mrs. Jennings.

Mr. Gid Winters is doing the grand thing with his new buggy.

Mrs. Mary Smith, of Germantown, Ky., is visiting Mrs. John Strout.

Mr. Dim French one of our young society beaux is paying special attention to a young lady of Flemington.

Since the rains the crops look splendid.

Manchester.

Monday morning at two o'clock burglars smashed in a plate-glass window of Wm. Henderson & Co.'s dry goods store for the purpose of robbery, but the noise awoke Mr. William Henderson, and the burglars beat a hasty retreat.

Mr. Alexander Fleming found a snake of the viper species, measuring three feet in length, under his pillow Monday morning.

Mr. John T. Hendrickson, and wife of Sand Hill, Ky., went visiting Monday and left the house in charge of the children, who went to bed at nightfall and left a candle burning, which fell into a box of bed clothes. The fire was discovered by neighbors, and the children, who were almost suffocated, brought to. They had a narrow escape. The house was badly damaged. No insurance.

A REPORT has been received here that the city of Alexandria surrendered to the British fleet, under Admiral Seymour at nine o'clock last night.

MARRIED.

July 11, 1882, at the European Hotel in this city, by the Rev. M. D. Reynolds, Mrs. SARAH C. VERGIN to Mr. JOSEPH ARMSTRONG, all of Mason county, Ky.

July 12, 1882, at the residence of W. W. Spates, Germantown, Ky., Miss LAURA J. RIGDON to Mr. WILLIAM M. BROTHERS, all of Mason county, Ky.
